

My name is Romain Clamour, and I am a third-year student studying for a Degree in Digital Media and Internet Professions, specialising in UX/UI Design & Communication Strategy. I work at the intersection of design, communication and digital technology, devising communication/marketing strategies, visuals and user experiences. My experiences have enabled me to develop rigour, team spirit and a sense of responsibility. My goal is to put these skills to work on projects that combine creativity, clarity and impact.
